

7dancers' spring production –An American Portrait

WHAT: 7dancers is excited to present its spring production, An American Portrait. 7dancers breathes life and movement into a series of photographed moments in America's history. Both touching and delightful, these moments are explained with an entertaining mix of dance styles. Each picture contains a story, some true, some a version of the possible. Each captures the essence of our country's rich and connected history. "An American Portrait is a unique journey into our past—we have the opportunity to give a multi-sensory interpretation of history, to share a moment, obscure or familiar, in a physical, musical form. After this piece, these moments will not be forgotten." -Stephanie Prosenjak.

7dancers is Denver's fresh and innovative non-profit professional dance company dedicated to excellence in a variety of dance disciplines, and committed to presenting its unique style of production in both performance and outreach endeavors. 7dancers is under the artistic direction of Stephanie Prosenjak, owner of Cherry Creek Dance, and Jenna Hawkins, associate.
